1ST SESSION

H. RES. 405

Calling on the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation to modify its accreditation standards to prevent the standards from negatively impacting Alaska Native and American Indian teacher candidates.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JULY 29, 2015

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska (for himself and Mr. TAKAI) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Education and the Workforce

RESOLUTION

Calling on the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation to modify its accreditation standards to prevent the standards from negatively impacting Alaska Native and American Indian teacher candidates.

Whereas Alaska Natives and American Indians are underrepresented in the profession of teaching;

Whereas Alaska Native and American Indian students benefit academically from the cultural perspectives of Alaska Native and American Indian teachers;

Whereas Alaska Native and American Indian teachers often serve as positive role models for Alaska Native and American Indian students;

Whereas increasing the number of Alaska Native and American Indian teachers working in native communities empowers tribes, benefits native youth, and strengthens tribal self-sufficiency;

Whereas the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation is the sole accrediting body for educator preparation programs at institutions in the United States;

Whereas the Council approved new accreditation standards in 2013 and plans for the standards to be fully implemented by 2016;

Whereas the Council's 2013 accreditation standards require that institutions, when accepting candidates to their schools of education, ensure that the group average performance on assessments such as the ACT and SAT is—

- (1) in the top 50 percent from 2016–2017;
- (2) in the top 40 percent of the distribution from 2018–2019; and
- (3) in the top 33 percent of the distribution by 2020;

Whereas because of social and economic barriers, the average ACT and SAT scores of Alaska Natives and American Indians are disproportionately lower than other categories of students;

Whereas Alaska Native and American Indian students have disproportionately inadequate access to exam preparation opportunities and 21st century technology and are less likely to take the ACT or SAT than other categories of students;

Whereas no definitive research or data has shown that performance on the SAT or ACT is an effective indicator of a prospective student's likelihood of success in an educator preparation program or as a teacher;

Whereas the Council's 2013 accreditation standards will force institutions to accept fewer Alaska Native and American Indian students in order to retain their accreditation, resulting in continued low representation of Alaska Natives and American Indians serving as teachers;

Whereas the Federal Government has a trust responsibility to support the education of Alaska Natives and American Indians; and

Whereas the Council should recognize the negative impact of its standards on Alaska Native and American Indian teacher candidates: Now, therefore, be it
